The WITNESS stated that she and Eric Thomas owned and operated a film production company known as Michael Thomas Productions (MTP). The WITNESS stated that in May 2000, MTP produced a video documentary about the negative impact the Clearview Landfill had on the local community. The WITNESS stated that the interviews she and Eric Thomas conducted were focused on health problems experienced by members of the local community. She indicated that all of the factual or background information about the operation of the Clearview Landfill was obtained from file archives at the Delaware County Times newspaper. The WITNESS provided the interviewer with internet links to these archive files.

The WITNESS stated that MTP obtained general information about the types of waste disposed of at Clearview. She explained that she had been told of liquid waste being disposed of at Clearview; however, she was never told the names of any generators or transporters other than Richie Heller and CityWide Services. The WITNESS stated that she had been told by local area residents of observing paint on the Clearview Landfill, yet she was never told the name of the generator of the paint.

The WITNESS stated that she cannot recall the names of any transporters other than the following:

- City of Philadelphia
- CityWide Services

The WITNESS stated that she did sneak onto the Clearview Landfill and filmed some of the waste on the Landfill. The WITNESS provided the interviewer with three (3) sets of four (4) photographs in each set. The WITNESS stated that she took these photographs and they show waste debris on the Clearview Landfill. These photographs are attached to this interview summary.

When asked the names of any individuals that may know of information relating to generators or transporters that disposed of waste at the Clearview Landfill, the WITNESS provided the following:
